

Punk Rock Workshops

As part of our programme to support schools and colleges the Lyric offers pre and post show workshops that can be delivered at outreach venues or at the Lyric.

This two hour workshop package includes performance and script work, character analysis and writing technique exploration.

Lyric practitioners will spend a morning or afternoon working intensively with your group to develop their understanding and knowledge of the Punk Rock. Participants will work alongside practitioners to explore the characters and context of the piece; they will participate in drama exercises enhancing their performance skills. The session will examine how the playwright Simon Stephens uses language and dialogue to convey messages to an audience. Practitioners will lead discussion and debate exercises enabling your group to explore the social and moral issues within the play.
